

For Eight Straight Years the

has done nothing but make good

In 1903 the Cadillac Company made and marketed what was then recognized as the first really practical and reliable motor car. That was the single cylinder Cadillac. Every one of these cars, so far as we know, is still in service. Doesn't this show that the cars were right?

In 1905 the Cadillac Company began manufacturing and marketing four cylinder cars. These cars, like their predecessors, embodied advanced principles in design, advanced methods of manufacture, and unusual precision in workmanship.

Each succeeding year has seen improvements and refinements of details.

The Cadillac "Thirty" as it stands today is the evolution and outcome of seven years' successful motor car manufacturing. It is the concentration of the best features which had proven their rightness in 40,000 Cadillacs that have "made good" in every sense of the word.

The Cadillac "Thirty" represents not only as high, but a higher degree of that precision in workmanship which has enabled the 2,000 cars made in 1903 to "make good" for seven years of hard, solid service and which has enabled every Cadillac car produced in succeeding years to "make good."

In the early days of the Cadillac "Thirty," buyers were not inclined to concede the full measure of its worth, but were disposed to compare it with cars of about the same price.

But now, all is different. Those who have familiarized themselves with the facts, think of the Cadillac "Thirty" only as one of that class of motor cars entitled to the highest admiration and respect.

MEETING WILL BE HELD IN DANVILLE

Representatives of Virginia and North Carolina Colleges to Discuss Athletics.

Durham, N. C., October 1.—A call has been issued for a meeting of representatives of the colleges of North Carolina and Virginia, to be held in Danville, on October 7, to consider questions relating to the athletic interests of the institutions of these two States. It is suggested that an association be formed which shall have as its object the adoption of a minimum number of requirements, which general experience has shown to be desirable, but leaving each institution free to employ and develop such a system of local self-government in athletics as its peculiar needs and environment might render advisable. The call states that "it is believed that such an association would be of great benefit in developing good feeling between the colleges, in affording an opportunity at the convention for the friendly discussion and adjustment of matters of general interest, and in stimulating the development of the highest ideals of sportsmanship. It is further believed that it will aid greatly in developing minor sports, such as basketball, track athletics and tennis." The meeting has been called to meet at the Burton Hotel, Danville, and Professor R. L. Flowers and F. C. Brown will represent Trinity at this meeting.

The Athletic Council of Trinity College met a night or two ago for the first time this year, and considerable business came up for transaction. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, W. W. Flowers; Vice-President, Dr. Frank C. Brown; Chairman of the Executive Committee, Professor R. L. Flowers; Treasurer, J. E. Pegram; Secretary, P. J. Kiker. Professor R. N. Wilson was elected faculty member of the council, to succeed Professor J. C. Wooten.

The council unanimously elected P. F. Hanes, of Winston-Salem, as manager of the baseball team. Mr. Hanes was assistant manager last year, and his election was not at all unexpected by the student body. He has been thoroughly schooled in the art of helping to arrange games and in looking after the many features connected with the grounds, and the student body feels assured that he will be able to arrange one of the best schedules Trinity has ever had.

P. J. Kiker, last year's captain of the basketball team, was elected manager for this year. Kiker, aside from being an extraordinary basketball player, is also an extraordinary business manager. He has already begun active correspondence looking to the arrangement of several games in and out of the State. With five of the old team back and about thirty husky looking freshmen in for a tryout, there can be no question but that this year's team will far outclass anything in the past. There is decidedly more interest being taken this year throughout the State in basketball, and the season bids fair to show some very hotly contested games.

YALE DEFEATS SYRACUSE.
Kicking of White.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New Haven, Conn., October 1.—Yale had an upset this afternoon, when Syracuse scored twice through the skillful kicking of White, who cleverly lifted two quick goals from placement, giving the visitors six points. Yale scored twice, the first time immediately after the opening of play, when Philbin plunged five yards for a touchdown, and again in the second half, when a forward pass, Captain Daly to Reilly, sent the latter thirty-five yards for a touchdown. Daly's two tries for goal from touchdowns were successful, making Yale's score 12.

The child, a mere strapping of a girl, is being held in the care of the police matron, at headquarters, as a witness.

The matter will come up before Police Justice Duncan to-morrow morning. Details of the case are without parallel in the history of the local police department, so the officers say.

Mrs. Dunn, the mother, who claims that she placed the child in the care of the Italian shoemaker, and he had instructions to carry her away to his relatives near Phoenix for a week, in order to frighten her into attending school more regularly, was a caller at Central Police Station this afternoon shortly after Police Detective Stevenson had landed the man and the girl in headquarters. The mother, Mrs. Dunn, still contends that she does not think her little girl was assaulted.

"Mr. Colladese," said Mrs. Dunn, in referring to the man under arrest, "is a perfect gentleman, and he had instructions from me to carry Gertrude over to his relatives and keep her there for a few days, just to frighten her and make her stop running away from school. I don't believe a word that the child has said, and I am sure the child makes a number of serious charges against the Italian."

BACK FIELD WEAK, BUT LINE STRONG

Washington and Lee Wins First Game From Roanoke College.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lexington, Va., October 1.—Washington and Lee University opens the football season to-day by defeating Roanoke College, 13 to 0. The game was slow, due in part to killing time between plays by Roanoke.

Owing to unfamiliarity with the new rules, the varsity failed to score until the last quarter, and the victory was due in large measure to Waddill's excellent punting. After a series of end runs, Washington and Lee lost the ball on Roanoke's fifty-yard line. Kinneer broke through and blocked Anderson's punt. Holson recovered the ball and ran fifteen yards for the first touchdown. Miller failed at an easy goal.

Blackburn carried the ball over for a second touchdown, and Miller kicked goal. When time was called the ball was in possession of Miller, on Roanoke's three-yard line.

The stars for Washington and Lee were Waddill, Simms, Kinneer, Blackburn, Hobson and Herman. Roanoke's stars were Captain Johnson and Anderson. Washington's defense was weak in the back field, but strong in the line. The line-up:

OPENING GAME WON BY W. P. I.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Blacksburg, Va., October 1.—W. P. I. won the first football game of the season here this afternoon, defeating Hampden-Sydney by a score of 18 to 0. The Techs' goal was never in danger, and their defense was strong. The forward pass was tried several times, without success.

Of the new men this season, Pick, at guard; Hughes, at end; and Berrier, halfback, showed up well. The game was clean, and no player was even slightly injured, but as played under the new rules it lacked the interest of former years for spectators.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST ITALIAN

Nine-Year-Old Girl Accuses Norfolk Shoemaker of Assault.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Norfolk, Va., October 1.—Charged with having made a criminal assault upon Gertrude Jones, the nine-year-old daughter, by her first husband, of 215 N. Main St., J. Lake Street, Tony Colladese, a Fenchurch Street shoemaker, is at Central Police Station, having been brought back to Norfolk early yesterday afternoon by Police Detective Stevenson, who went to Phoenix, where the man and the child were taken in custody Wednesday afternoon.

The child, a mere strapping of a girl, is being held in the care of the police matron, at headquarters, as a witness. The matter will come up before Police Justice Duncan to-morrow morning. Details of the case are without parallel in the history of the local police department, so the officers say.

SIXTY H. P. ALCO, Six Cylinders, Shaft Drive

This is the ALCO leader, the great car that is always ready and is equal to anything and everything—Powerful, Enduring, Silent—the car of many records and the same basic model that won the Vanderbilt cup. Some interesting new features are incorporated in the 1911 "Sixty," changes of detail that are all in the line of refinement and will make this ALCO masterpiece still more distinctly superior and more than ever "a lasting luxury." It is absolutely noiseless.

With limousine or landaulet body.....6,750.00

FORTY H. P. ALCO, Four Cylinders, Shaft Drive

A larger motor, with cylinders 130 m-m x 140 m-m (5 1/4 x 5 1/2 in.) has been incorporated in this model (the original "Anti-Fatigue Car"); also other refinements corresponding to those in the "Sixty." This gives a considerable increase in power, and with it there is a substantial reduction in price, multiplying the efficiency and economy of a car that always has been notable for these qualities. It is clean and silent as the snow.

THREE-TON ALCO TRUCK, Chain Drive

Here is a motor truck that has been making good in high places during the last three years, while others were experimenting. It has been adopted by big corporations after long competitive tests. Distinctive for its economy of up-keep, ease of handling and continuity of service. Various improvements of detail are in the latest models. Those who use it say: "It pays."

22 H. P. Town Car (Limousine or Landaulet) $4,350.00—16 H. P. Cab $3,350.00.

Except for minor refinements these models are unchanged.

Ultimate economy in motor cars and trucks depends upon far-sightedness when purchasing. Remember, it was a user who first said of the ALCO and a game secured with them for November 19. Negotiations are now being carried on for a game to be played in Raleigh on A. & M.'s only open date, October 15.

The squad is put through hard, steady practice each afternoon, and is rapidly developing into an efficient football machine. Coach Green is well pleased with the showing made by his men, and believes that A. and M. will be victorious over Georgetown University in the approaching game between the "Hilltoppers" and the "farmers."

HARVARD IN GREAT SHAPE.
Team Shows Up Strong in Every Department of Game.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Cambridge, Mass., October 1.—Harvard defeated Bowdoin at football this afternoon, by the overwhelming score of 32 to 0, scoring five touchdowns and one field goal. The Crimson showed every attribute of championship possibilities. The visitors were bowled aside before magnificent interference of the Harvard backs like ten-pins. Harvard was strong in every department of the game, with but one exception. The men handled the ball nervously, and therefore fumbling was frequent. The line, especially on the left side, where the Glants, McKay and Minot, were stationed, created havoc with the opposition. The big fellows were gluttons for work, and opened holes large enough to send a house through. The Crimson depended on line plays and runs for her gains. Harvard made four successful forward passes out of six tries. Each eleven essayed an inside kick, but neither made good.

The game was slowed somewhat by the frequent calling of penalties.

LLOYDS ANXIOUS TO INSURE PLAYERS

London Firm Will Indemnify Club Owners for Accidents to Stars.

Cincinnati, Ohio, October 1.—That the Lloyds of London, who control one of the largest insurance companies in the world, have decided that they will try to get a bit of business from the men who are promoting the all-star series of baseball games is evidenced from a telegram which has been received in Cincinnati from them by D. A. Fletcher, who says he will take two teams from the major leagues on a tour this fall, including St. Louis players. The Lloyds say they will insure the players he will use to indemnify the club owners of the National and American Leagues, and name a price which is considered very low by Mr. Fletcher. He says that he will have the men insured that they may return to their clubs next year, unless they wish to join his league, which will probably be in operation at that time.

The Lloyds are well known to Americans through the several unusually large policies which they have written for American theatrical and sporting people. Before the recent Jeffries-Johnson prize fight they insured both principals, and they have also policies on the hands of Babalik, Federewski and other people who are renowned in the world of entertainment.

So far the prize fighters have been about the only American sportsmen to take out these policies, and the coming into the field of baseball by the Lloyds will be a new field of venture by that firm.

This is a strong argument for the six-month contract, that will probably be the chief thing for which the new National Baseball Brotherhood will contend when it is formed after the season ends. The magnates have all along argued that they do not want to allow their players to take part in any other sport during the winter months because they fear that their players might be injured. But if this insurance is guaranteed then they can allow their players to do whatever they like during the winter. Then, if the players are injured, they will receive a big prize for their injuries. Mr. Fletcher says he will use the Lloyds when his new league starts, and that he will allow his players to do whatever they wish as soon as the baseball season ends. He says that he has more than $3,000,000 promised him for this league, and that he can get the best players in both the National and American Leagues by giving them higher wages and more liberties than are now afforded the players. He says that Hans Wagner will manage his Pittsburgh club.

STAR PLAYER VERY ILL.
"Text" Ramsdell, of Pennsylvania, Lies at Point of Death.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 1.—"Text" Ramsdell, champion football player, to-day is lying at the point of death, with double pneumonia, because he insisted last Wednesday on playing with Pennsylvania when he saw the light eleven of Dickinson had a chance of defeating the local boys. He was suffering from pneumonia when he went into the game, but insisted upon going in and bolstering up the team. Following the Dickinson game, Ramsdell went to his home, but immediately became much worse. He later was removed to the students' ward of the hospital, but his condition has continued to become worse, until this afternoon the physicians in attendance fear there is slight hope for recovery.

On account of his speed, Pennsylvania has been depending upon Ramsdell to win most of their games for this season. He is considered their most valuable man back of the line.

Ramsdell came to Pennsylvania from Houston, Texas.
